CLTAK TEACHERS

Adams Nderitu

My name is Adams Nderitu, and my journey into the Chinese language and culture began in 2019, driven by curiosity and a desire to expand my knowledge.

I enrolled in a free Chinese language and culture course offered to bonafide students at Kenyatta University. What started as mere curiosity soon blossomed into a genuine passion.

In 2020, I enrolled in a diploma program in Chinese language and culture, during which I simultaneously taught Chinese language and culture part-time to young children in Ruiru.

My Chinese Learning Journey

Upon graduating, I had the privilege of introducing Chinese language and culture to students at Blessed Narok School and the Blessed Narok Institute of Chinese Language and Technology. Teaching has been a deeply rewarding experience for me. Witnessing my students' progress and their own journeys into the Chinese world has been fulfilling. The classroom interactions and cultural exchanges enriched not only my students but also myself.

Capture Mr. Adam's Fun Moments

In June 2023, my teaching journey paused when I was awarded a one-year scholarship to study at Shandong Normal University through the Kenyatta University Confucius Institute. I returned home in 2024 and currently work as a translator, which has offered me a different but valuable perspective.

Nevertheless, my passion for sharing knowledge and engaging with children remains strong, and I look forward to returning to the classroom soon.

Auspicious Book Launch

In the month of July, One of our teachers Ms. Faith Mworio launched two Chinese Story Books: My African Hut (我非洲的小房子) and My Leaking Roof (我的屋顶漏水了)。 The books have been published by Changjiang Publishing & Media and Hubei Science and Technology.

The two story books are suitable for students in YCT 1-4 as well as in HSK 1-3.

The two sets of books are available from the Books Agents and Bookshops at only 400/=
